The Milk of Sorrow

Film Screening and Opening Reception

Thursday, April 28, 2011 -- 17:00 -21:00

Caseroom, Liu Institute for Global Issues

The Milk of Sorrow (La Teta Asustada) is a film by Peruvian director Claudia Llosa, inspired by Kimberly Theidon's book, Entre Prójimos. The film's title refers to a specific condition, described by Andean women to Dr. Theidon, wherein trauma experienced by raped women during Peru's recent civil war was passed on to children when nursing. The film narrates the story of Fausta, a young woman whose mother was raped and father murdered during Peru's conflict, and who has to negotiate the fear and suffering passed down by her mother through the milk of sorrow. The film was nominated for the Best Foreign Language Film at the Academy Awards and won the 2009 Golden Bear the FIPRECI prize at the Berlin International Film Festival, and the award for best movie in the 24 Festival Internacional de Cine de Guadalajara in Mexico.

Light reception following the film screening in the Lobby Gallery, Liu Institute for Global Issues.
